

S. B. Council Votes Final Approval For Liquor Sale Hours Extension

By a split vote, South Bay Councilmen Thursday passed on final reading an ordinance which would permit the sale of alcoholic beverages after 1 p. m. Sundays. The vote was the latest chapter in a month-long controversy among the council and two factions of residents. Thursday night the city's attorney, Claude Jones, reviewed the legality of the proposed ordinance which creates additional occupational license fees for beverage vendors who wish to operate the additional hours, 1 p. m. Sundays to 3 a. m. Monday mornings.

Another delegation was present to voice further objection by Rev. L. C. Woolridge, pastor, South Bay First Baptist Church, who said he represented 235 petitioners who disfavored the extended hours.

The council also heard a letter from Juvenile Court Counselor Gene Dunne who predicted an increase in juvenile delinquency and dependency as a result of "unhealthy moral situations."

After the council heard that few of the licenses wanted additional hours, motion to approve the ordinance was made by Councilman Cobb, seconded by E. O. Miller and carried with Mayor Henry Elfer's vote. Councilmen R. R. Roadman and J. C. Bowen voted against the measure.

According to the ordinance, the extra license fees will be earmarked to help pay the cost of the city's proposed stand-pipe for improved water pressure and supply.

In related action the council received the completed specifications and plans for the water tower from their consulting engineers, Russell & Axon.

Water Bills
The council heard City Manager Lawson Caruthers report that the city's list of delinquent water subscribers had all but been wiped out. Only $50.04 remained to be collected of the bills which once totaled $3,500 last October, and the final arrangements for collection of the remainder had been made.

Other Action
Ordered a resolution to the county commission concerning the repair of streets in the city which have been damaged as a result of the intersection construction.

Created a payroll fund for better accounting and internal control of monies.

Retained Hunnicutt & Associates to update their property valuations for tax purposes.

Instructed the city manager to set a table for Ben Austin, Water Department Supervisor.

Crushing of new crop tung nuts for oil will be under way at Florida plants in January.

After the opening prayer, recitations of the Prayer Study Book were given on "How We Keep Lent" and "Fasting During Lent" by Mrs. Baile, which was followed by a program on the Altar by Mrs. B. E. Weeks. Mrs. Weeks traced the history of the Altar and explained the symbolic meaning of the Altar appointments and vestments.

A short business meeting followed and the Guild voted to make a new set of white vestments to be ready for the Easter service; to serve a light breakfast after Holy Communion Service each Wednesday during Lent; and to dispense with refreshments at the March meeting.

All members were urged to attend the Denary meeting to be held in Fort Pierce, Wednesday, March 9. Church Periodical Club Secretary, Mrs. Baile, explained how each member could participate by donating books, magazines, bibles and prayer books to be distributed locally, nationally and overseas wherever there was a need.

The meeting was closed with prayer and refreshments were served by the hostesses to the 15 members present.

Christian And Missionary Alliance Missionary Convention March 3-6

Rev. Tom Bozeman

The Christian and Missionary Alliance Church will conduct its missionary convention beginning Friday, March 3 and continuing through Sunday, March 6 in the Woman's Club building. Two missionaries serving in the foreign missionary field will give an insight in the work they have accomplished and will show slides and curios depicting the areas where they have preached the gospel.

The Rev. Tom Bozeman, Ormond, Fla., has served one term as a missionary under The Christian and Missionary Alliance in the Balien section of the New Guinea field. Facing many difficulties and obstacles he pioneered and opened new areas for the witness of the gospel, which resulted in establishing of new stations. He also evangelized among the primitive peoples of the villages.

The past two years of his term have been spent in preaching and witnessing in wide areas of the Balien Valley among the Dani people, many of whom have been converted to the gospel and have shown great concern about their spiritual condition.

Mrs. Doris Louise Jacobson of Pinellas Park, has spent the last ten years in missionary work in the Philippine Islands. Her first assignment was teaching the missionaries' children during the weekend among the Chinese in Zamboanga City. Her first term for the most part was used in teaching the Bible in high schools, colleges, bible conferences and Sunday School conventions.

During the last part of her term Miss Jacobson entered the pioneer field to open work among the neglected Tagalogs in the New Guinea field. She lived in a primitive area in a Filipino house with one Bible school student. She opened seven preaching points among the Tagalogs and they were baptized before she left. There have become lay preachers and are carrying the work there. She is working forward by continuing her labors among these people and believes God has laid on her heart the burden for these 30,000 lost sheep for whom Christ has died.

Robert L. Lovette, pastor of the church here invites the public to come and hear the wonderful work the missionaries have done and see the pictures where it has taken place.

THERE'S NO ALCOHOL IN FOODS COOKED WITH WINE

Many people believe that because wine has a small amount of alcohol in it that adding it to foods before cooking will make the foods alcoholic. This is quite erroneous, since during the process of cooking the alcohol is changed into vapor and passes into the air. Wine in cooking is not for alcohol effect, but for flavoring.

Mayor Lost

East Coast Dignitary Donates Buck For Proper Road Signs At South Bay

Here's hoping something happens to improve the sign situation at South Bay before any more mayors get lost or misplaced as they travel through our neighboring municipality. According to Jay H. White, mayor of North Palm Beach, a village on U. S. 1, the SR 80-27 intersection at South Bay probably the most inadequately marked turn in the United States.

In a letter to the town council last week, White revealed that he was in the habit of making wrong turns and ending up near Miami, Ft. Lauderdale and other points south.

White realized that he wasn't headed for the east coast. White related that a bevy of his personal acquaintances also had similar luck. He also cited the fact that a bus load of basketball players from Riviera Beach High School drove almost to Ft. Lauderdale before the mistake was realized.

White enclosed a dollar bill to start a fund to buy enough signs to mark the turn to West Palm Beach, to keep good Americans from getting lost going through South Bay.

The need for road signs has been acute since the intersection was torn up last year for rebuilding. Before that the signs pointing to the coast were—in a sense—improperly placed.

The Herald suggests would-be transients make more frequent trips to the Glades and South Bay in particular to better acquaint themselves with road conditions and directions in this area. During such trips, the sandlanders and tourists could enjoy some of our Glades hospitality and fishing.

You don't have to keep your eyes on the road to see at what our Chamber of Commerce is driving.

Cub Scouts Celebrate 50th Birthday Tonight

Carlton Visited Glades Thursday

Gubernatorial candidate Doyle Carlton, Jr., included the Glades on his whistle-stop tour of Palm Beach County last Thursday with appearances at Pahokee and Belle Glade.

After a morning spent at Delray, he made a luncheon address to Pahokee Rotarians and talked about roads in general.

Continuing on the road theme and other phases of his campaign, Carlton held a kaffeeklatch 2-4 p.m. at Dixiana Grill.

He told The Herald he would carry his campaign to the west coast this week before his big kick-off of his native Wauchula this weekend.

Making the trip with Carlton were William T. Hayes, his Palm Beach County chairman; and Paul McAllister, another campaign staff member.

New Bills Ready For Phone Users

Two different types of statements of long distance telephone calls are being mailed to Belle Glade-Pahokee area telephone subscribers this month.

One statement is the same type received in the past, according to Zeke O'Farrell, Group Manager, for Southern Bell. The other is a new and improved type resulting from Southern Bell's newly developed, "mark-sensed" process.

Operators record call information on computer cards which are sensitized for the receipt of special pencil marks.

"The mark-sensed" prepared statement will aid the subscribers in understanding his bill of long distance calls," O'Farrell says. "By furnishing detailed information for each long distance call."

The statement will list the date, the called city and state, the telephone number called and the amount of the call. It also lists the calling and called cities on collect and credit card calls. Only minor abbreviations of names will be used.

"The change over to the new type statement should be complete with the April bill received by our customers since we feel that the training of our people should be completed on, or before that date," O'Farrell points out.

Telephone Club News

Members of the Southern Bell Telephone Women's Club are honoring Mrs. Arlene Haskins with a stork shower in the club lounge at 8 p.m. Thursday.

From my front porch...

"...I watch the world go by."

"Pleasant Dreams"

If I can find, when day is done, such pleasant thoughts to dwell upon,
As having in another's need, done just a single, kindly deed,
Then I shall sink into my sleep
Without the dread that there will creep.
Into my dreams, the awful things
That an uneasy conscience brings.
And I shall not so worried be
That sleeplessness will torture me:
Plus if I cannot sleep - well, then,
I'll think my pleasant thought again.

An optimist is a woman who leaves the supper dishes because she will feel more like doing them in the morning.

Urchins are things you get from mountain-climbing over molehills.

The pioneers would have shed big tears,
And thrown away their axes,
If in a dream
They'd caught but a gleam
Of what we'd pay in taxes!

Glades May Soon Reap Benefits Of "Chopper" Landing Port

What's a heliport?
Better find out, for Belle Glade is likely to have two or more of them and likely become the first Florida agricultural area to officially designate heliports.

A heliport is a designated landing field for helicopters, autogiros and the Umbough-18. The new Umbough has combined desirable features of the winged airplane for forward motion and whirling rotor blades for buoyancy which eliminates many unsafe features of both.

A fertilizer man trying to "put wings on his 100 salesmen" apparently has come up with a "economy breakthrough" in providing an air travel machine which can be flown by an ordinary car driver with a few hours instruction. Umbough claims an estimated cost less than customary mileage allowance for an automobile which can use less than an ordinary building lot for a landing field.

Raymond E. Umbough, President of the Umbough Agricultural Chemical Co., Ocala, equipped two of his best salesmen with helicopters and found that their increased sales justified paying all 100 of them on wings.

However, buying one hundred

THIS "CROSS" OR HYBRID air travel buggy is claimed to combine the desirable features of the winged propeller-driven airplane and the gyro or helicopter-type of air travel at a "poor man's economical level." It's "pumping" for vertical take-off is through the rotors, as is the safe low-speed landing qualities. The pusher-type propeller, plus rotor "reduces by 60% take-off and landing hazards," according to its makers. It costs Ten Grand, less five bucks and "operates at six cents per mile, at 300 hours flying per year."

dred rotors would call for four to five millions outlay and the cost per mile travelled averaged around $121.

Being a World War II pilot himself, Umbough decided that he could build a contraption for less than that capital outlay and his company's cost per mile for salesmen's travel would be far less.

The present day result is the her is used to give forward motion.

A contract has been signed with Fairchild Aircraft Co. of Hagerstown, Md., for mass production of Umbough's machine to care for some 4,000 orders already in and an estimated 50,000 delivery schedule in the near future.

A practical application of the use of the machine in this territory as an inducement to tourists to visit Lake Okechobee's fishing waters, or Glade's golf course, is the designation of the Port of Belle Glade's camping area as a heliport. This would allow landing near the fishing camps and the No. 1 golf course hole. Landing in the pasture just south of Glades Livestock Market would also immediate attendance at the sales.

A buyer could visit a half dozen pastures for a personal inspection of board sale groups. Guy Bender, Chief of the Everglades Fire Control, could take off and land from his own headquarters front yard to visit burning areas in his 16-county district and direct operations by radioophone from his aerial position.

Progress seems to be here, if you're serially-minded and need a cover a lot of ground for whatever purpose.
